Mark Your Calendars for the 45th Annual MPF Convention!

(Buffalo, Minn.) – The 2016 Midwest Poultry Federation (MPF) Convention marks the 45th anniversary of this widely-respected and well-attended poultry industry event!

The MPF Convention – set for March 15-17, 2016 at the Saint Paul RiverCentre in Saint Paul, Minn. – will feature an education program grounded in excellence, a continued expansion of exhibit space, and a multitude of networking opportunities.

“MPF is excited to announce the addition of ‘Hall C’ which offers a third exhibit area for even more booth space for companies wanting to share their tools, equipment, and expertise with attendees,” said MPF Executive Director Steve Olson. “Hall C is conveniently located above Hall B so attendees will have no trouble maneuvering between exhibit hall areas.”

Booth space is going quickly, so if you’re company is interested in exhibiting at the 2016 show, please contact MPF Exhibits Manager Teresa Sorenson as soon as possible (763/682-2171 or tsorenson@midwestpoultry.com.)

The education program will be announced later this fall and will include sessions for turkey, broiler, egg layer, and organic and specialty poultry production.

Registration and hotel reservations for attendees will open Friday, December 4, on www.midwestpoultry.com.
