2022 MPF Convention

New 'Poultry Ted Talks' Program Seeks Poultry Graduate Students

(Buffalo, Minn.) ... The Midwest Poultry Federation (MPF) invites graduate students in poultry to submit a proposal for our 1st annual "Poultry Ted Talks" to be held on Wednesday, March 23, as part of the 2022 MPF Convention.

Graduate students may submit a proposal for any topic and/or research project that is relevant to the poultry industry and with which they have direct involvement in.

Poultry Ted Talk presentations are shorter in nature and will be limited to 25 minutes inclusive of questions and discussion from the audience. Graduate students chosen to present must be available on Wednesday, March 23 between 9:00 am – 5:00 pm CST. (MPF will set and announce the schedule in advance.) Presentations will be held at the Minneapolis Convention Center.

Graduate students chosen to present will be eligible to receive complimentary MPF Convention registration as well as some additional travel reimbursements.

For further details on the criteria and deadline for submissions, please visit <https://midwestpoultry.com/call-for-presentations/>.

Details on all MPF Convention events, education program, and the list of exhibitors are available at www.midwestpoultry.com. You can also find MPF on Facebook and Twitter. You may also contact MPF with any questions at info@midwestpoultry.com or 763/284-6763.

About MPF

MPF is a nonprofit organization with the primary purpose of hosting an annual convention and trade show emphasizing on-farm poultry production. The organization is proud to donate revenue from the show to various poultry organizations for research and educational activities as well as back to MPF's member organizations in nine U.S. states.
