This is a call for Titles and Abstracts for the North Central Avian Disease Conference \(NCADC\). We are excited to announce that it will be held in person. This year's NCADC will be held on April 10 – 11, 2023 in the Minneapolis Convention Center, Minneapolis, Minnesota, in conjunction with the PEAK 2023 Convention.

Registration for the conference is available here.

Abstract Submissions

All are encouraged to submit Titles and Abstracts for the 2023 NCADC program. Topics can include, but are not limited to: poultry disease research studies, case reports, diagnostics, enhancement of biosecurity, or any field updates regarding specific poultry diseases.

The Deadline for title and abstract submission is March 1st, 2023. A disposition regarding your submitted abstract(s) will be communicated by March 15th, 2023. Oral presentations are limited to 15 minutes. Monetary prizes for the Pomeroy Best Graduate Student Presentation and the Best Case Report will be awarded.

Please follow these submission instructions for titles and abstracts:

- Titles and abstracts should be submitted in a word file formatted with Times New Roman font at a size of 12 point single spacing document. Margins, in all directions, must be 1 inch.
- The title can be 150 characters maximum. Spaces are not included in the title character count.
- Provide a list of authors affiliations below the title, including the presenting author's Affiliation and Email address
- Abstract should include an introduction, procedures, results and conclusions. These do not need to be separated by each category, and can be combined into a single paragraph.

- The title and abstract should not exceed one page in length.
- If you submit more than one abstract, please use one file per title and designate the order of preference.
- Email your submissions to Dr. Tim Johnson at tjj@umn.edu

In your submission email indicate if you would like to participate in the Pomeroy Best Graduate Student Presentation Award or the Best Case Report Award.

The 74th North Central Avian Disease Conference will be held immediately before the PEAK 2023 Convention at its venue in lovely downtown Minneapolis, MN. There is good access by air and road. This is a premier gathering for veterinarians and affiliated professionals in poultry.
